Healthmark Industries, which develops products for the sterilization, decontamination, storage and security of surgical instruments and other medical devices and accessories, has named Amanda Dupure its new digital marketing associate, according to a news release from Healthmark Industries.

Ms. Dupure will work directly with corporate initiatives to provide digital creative and website support/design. She is a recent graduate of Michigan State University with a bachelor's degree in journalism. She has also completed an internship with the MSU Communications department working on various designs and their communication executions.

"We are very excited to welcome Amanda to Healthmark Industries," said Vice President Ralph Basile, in the release. "She will play an important role in developing our digital communications. We look forward to working with her in the years ahead."
